DRAFTSMAN

MACOMBER

Macomber Vocational High School

Toledo, Ohio

Foreword

"The spirit dwells in all men, and yet not all men are aware of it" is an old Hindu saying of which one is reminded when he considers the construction of this school Yearbook whose theme is VISION.

In this Annual we, the staff, have tried to emphasize the idea of a Calculating Vision concerning the activities which are a part of Macomber's yearly program.

THE CRAFTSMAN

Administration - "Visualizes Future"

"VISION"

Whenever we talk of the word "Vision", we think of a man of ideas, an individual who has the power to look ahead. We think of a person who has foresight, the ability to project himself forward into the days to come and see what he is going to accomplish in a given period of time. If he cannot visualize what he wants he can never accomplish it.

The second step is to have the ability, capacity, and power to plan what you are going to do; how you are going to develop the ideas which you have; how youare going to organize things to bring about the fulfillment of your hopes.

The third phase of Vision is action: the ability to concentrate on a job and follow out the plan and carry it through to completion. It is that spiritual quality in mankind of never giving up until success has been attained that really counts. It means belief and faith in yourself, your ideas, and your plans. —"Where there is no vision, the people perish.

Senior Class Prophecy

The most revolutionary development of the year 1973 was the founding of the Interplanetary Corporation. The Corporation was established in June of this year when the Class of 1948 of Macomber Vocational High School met for the 25th Annual Reunion. The entire class was so enthusiastic over the idea presented by United States President Bruce Parks that it dropped all other activities to lend its support to the Corporation.

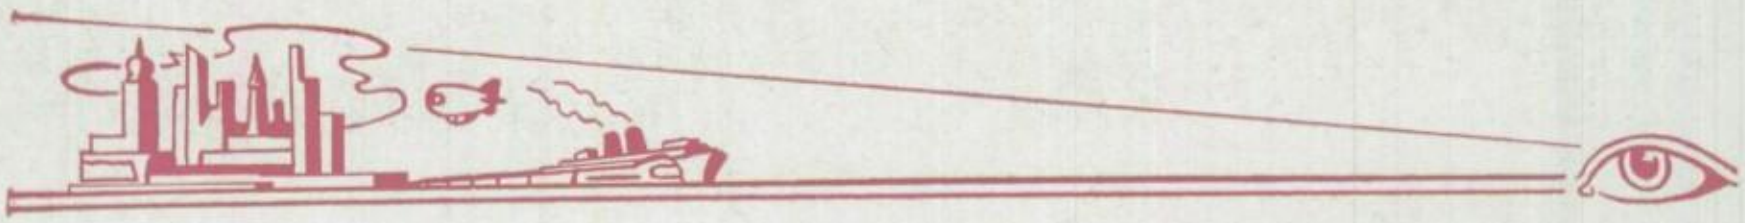
The new Interplane, the sensation of the age, was the outstanding production of the Corporation. It is a rocket vehicle which can run on the highway, in the water, under the water, fly in the air, and even go thru the stratosphere. The Interplane, a masterpiece of design, was the product of the imagination of James Pribe, Bert Kohler, and Charles Houck, Auto Mechanics; Robert Weiler, Lyle Althouse, and Gene Barron, Aeronautics; Jerry Trabbic, Jim Davis, and Dave Rybka, Commercial Art; George Burtch, Herbert Sautter, and Sam Dickey, of Mechanical Drafting Class. The working models were executed by the Pattern Shop of 1948, supervised by Richard Urbanowski, and Joe Schardt. The Machine Shop of 1948 under the direction of Kenny Brubaker, Donald Buck, and Denny Miller, machined all the working parts of the Interplane.

Boon to many families was the Inter-Home, another product of the Interplanetary Corporation. Designed by Emery Scsavnicki, Richard Krause, and Ken McCoy, 1948 Architects, and executed with the cooperation of Mr. Sam Harrison, Bill Biel, and Chuck Peterson, Electricians; Leonard Herwat, Richard Lewandowski, and Victor Matuszewski, Cabinet Making; Harold Bassler, Eddie Joyner, and Jack Leasure, Refrigeration; Merle Walker, Wayne Kohne, and Carl Schwamm of Sheet Metal; Richard Schneider, and Norbert Thiel, Welding. The Inter-Home is adaptable to all climates and regions. It can be assembled within an hour, and and it is so compact that it can be placed in the trunk of your Interplane. In fact, it can be assembled and dissembled from a button in the Interplane, by a mechanism similar to the obsolete electric eye of 1948. You now can take your house with you anywhere in the country, and not worry about hotels, motels, or motor-courts!

Another product of the Corporation is the Telepathic Printer, invented by Don Mooney, Dick Sund, and Ken Grandy, inventive geniuses of the 1948 Print Shop Class. It is a mechanism which is equipped with a number of different types and can print in any desired type by telepathic impression. The operator merely puts on the Telepathic Headgear, sets the desired type on the Printer, and reads the copy into a small microphone. Immediately the machine sets up, justifies the lines and prints from one to a thousand copies a minute.

The office of the Interplanetary Corporation is in the Vision Building on Universe Plaza in Downtown Toledo. The Officers of the Corporation are Richard Holtfreter, President; Don Hilding, Vice President, and Ronald Rymers, Secretary-Treasurer all of the Office Practice Class of 1948.

The Interplanetary is the Corporation of the year.



Juniors

In Memoriam

William Sautter

Bill Sautter, of Instructor Harold Elwing's Junior Mechanical Drafting Class, was an interested "above-average" student, whose attitude toward his work was very commendable. The boys of his shop and his many other Macomber friends have scores of pleasant memories of their friend, Bill.

He was always kind and considerate in his dealings with others. Bill, at an early age, had worked out a beautiful pattern for living. We, who were privileged to know him, realize that he was ready when the Great Teacher called.

Junior Class Notes

The members of the Class of '49 entered the Mac Halls back in 1946, determined to master the trades of their choice and to learn that "Skill Pays."

The Junior Class held a few me etings during the 1947-48 school year to discuss the Yearbook for 1949. Motifs were discussed and the "go ahead" sign was giv en to Instructor E. W. Spring and his Art Department.

Ideas for the '49 Craftsman wer e discussed and the Commercial Artists were commissioned to develope three or four sketches. Final decisions were made in June of 1948.

Plans are underway to elect Cla ss Officers and to carry on activities which will prepare the Juniors with the "know how" in their Senior year. The kids are getting smarter all the while.

Good thinking on school affairs was done by William Carpenter, Thomas Baronski, Rollie Engler, Harold Adoline, Donald McCluskey, Richard Adamowicz, James Bohnsack, Steve Mazurek, and Cha rles Wilkins.

Donald Wollenbecker and Robe rt Wollenschlager performed valuable services for the Craftsman Staff. JuniorsRich ard Dukes and Richard Senecal carried on as editor and shop editor of The Hi-Crier respectively. Robert Smith served as assistant photographer along with Bill Os berger.

Lee Whaley and Mike Geddis k ept the presses in the Print Shop humming with excellent impressions.

Charles Estes, Thomas Kandis and Kenneth Kramer won reputations as perfect gentlemen in their shops and relat ed classes.

Don Spoerl learned to get along with the Graphic Arts in related classes. Three Musketeers Arnold Szakovits, Bill Simko, and Louis Kovacs settled down in Sheet Metal.

Richard Tittle and Norman Lay caught fire and gave promises to Coaches Ardner and Jeffery that the sports will be looking up when the Juniors become Seniors.

The Juniors ended their year hi ghly recommending the organization of Junior classes as soon as school opens in fa ll. Their thoughts were well taken and the good which they reflected will shine on for the classes to come.

Strike Up The Band

The Mac Band, under the baton of Mrs. Robert H. Kinker, is fast becoming one of the outstanding activities of the school. Through the splendid cooperation of Principal Dannenfelser, the Macomber Band has been given a new deal.

Definite practices are scheduled and the musicians have disciplined themselves in the matter of regular attendance. The aid of the teachers has been gratifying, and all is becoming most harmonious.

Performances at assemblies, which have added to the Mac Spirit, give promise of a top notch band very shortly. At all of the school functions the slogan will soon be: "Strike up the band, and let Macomber swing along."

Officers this year are: Dick Baumhower, president; Kenneth Campbell, vice-president; Charles Estes, secretary-treasurer; Ronald Cole, Lawrence Driver, music librarians; and James Horner and Ron Cole, uniform librarians.

Let's Go To Press

The Hi-Crier, edited and printed by the students, was published by one of the best organized staffs. The busy staff even found time for two eventful dances during the year.

As usual, the first Hi-Crier edition was delivered the third week of school to maintain an enviable record. Editor-in-Chief Richard Dukes proved his ability to get the staff members to work as a well co-ordinated team.

The staff made great progress in training Juniors to fill the shoes of those graduating. Thus, future Macs are assured of their school newspaper, The Hi-Crier, which will be of the students, by the students, and for the students. The Hi-Crier ever proclaims student endeavor.

Government In Action

The 1947-48 Student Council is one of the best ever to function in Macomber High School. Under the capable leadership of President George Polcyn, ably assisted by Vice President Bill Parton, Secretary Bob Parker, and Sergeant-at-Arms Denny Miller, activities for the year got off to a fast start.

No later than Friday, November 14, 1947, Principal Dannenfelser had placed the responsibility for the student conduct at all assemblies on willing Student Council shoulders. This responsibility of governing behavior in assemblies was generously accepted and efficiently executed.

Student Council committees, which have played an important role in the overall picture for the year, were: Assembly Committee, Chairman Jack Zohn; Constitution Committee, Chairman George Polcyn; Welfare Committee, Chairman Don Lynn; Athletic Committee, Chairman Nick Romano.

Activities for the year were many and varied, including: the sale of basketball season tickets; and the annual Basketball Banquet.

YMCA

The Hi-Y started 1947 with many bright hopes.

The executives of the year were: Don Lynn, president; Ray Gasiniak, vice-president; Don Mooney, secretary; and Jan Horton, treasurer.

The first program of the agendum of the Hi-Y which has been known as the "Hi-Macs" was a trip to Camp Storer, from where many of the boys came back with an accumulation of names, addresses, and telephone numbers. Jock Goodwill and Bob Newell had many enjoyable experiences at camp and for weeks after.

Next on the "Hi-Macs" activity program was a roast, which was held at Side-Cut Park. Ralph Cousino supplied the records for the roast.

The roast was followed by a hay ride which took place at Whiteford Stables Whiteford, Michigan, Bob Cook, Carl Schwamm and other members enjoyed this fall frolic.

The Hi-Y Skate was held at the Coliseum Roller Rink, on December 8, 1947.

Builders

Immediately upon the opening of the school year, officers were elected and committees chosen to plan the activities for the year.

The first event was a roast which was a huge success. After enjoying the wide open spaces, the club began planning affairs of a more serious nature. The science displays in the library were set up for the benefit of the students of Macomber. Numerous plant trips were arranged. Among them were trips through the Page Dairy, Libbey Glass, Ford Motor Co., Safety Building, and the Bell Telephone Co.

Many technical movies were shown to the members of the club. Many Engineers worked out scientific experiments for the Science Show which was held in May. Among these various experiments were such ones as boiling water with ice and boiling water in a paper cup.

Two very successful skates were held during the year. Our basketball team had a very successful season. Engineers' sweaters became available again. An attractive Engineers' pin was designed.

Many new members were added to the club, and the new constitution, which was drawn up last year, put into effect.

Silver Sheets

Macomber's Projection Club reached a new membership high for 1947 with 11 Seniors 18 Juniors, and 10 Sophomores enrolled.

Officers elected were James Martzke, president; Richard Nowak, vice-president; James Leady, secretary; and Charles Leck, treasurer.

The members organized a basketball team to challenge the Hi-Y, Engineers, and any other Macomber clubs for the school championship. Players include Richard Nowak, Machinist; Bruce Parks and Lowell Rogers, Electricians; Max Miller, Forrest Fant, and Richard Nowak, Drafters; the Stambaugh twins, Von and Don; and Ted Clevenz. Sophomore recruits on the team were Michael McGowan, Louis Vasko, Charles Myers, and Raymond Zuelke. Seniors out for basketball were James Martzke and Clarence Reihing.

With good scholarship stressed as a requirement for membership, Junior and Senior operators received 41 A's, 53 B's, 39 C's; 6 D's; and only 2 F's the first quarter. Four Seniors & one Junior were suspended for failure to maintain a C or better average and allowed one quarter to raise their grades or be droppeded as members.

Telescope Club - "New Vision"

With The Stars

One of the newly organized clubs is the Amateur Telescope Makers' Club. It was organized by Instructor Sam Harrison.

The purpose of the club is not to study astronomy, but to build reflecting type telescopes. The majority of the time in building a telescope is spent on the grinding and polishing of the mirror .Two six inch glass discs are used in this process.

The polishing surface must be kept clean for one imperfection will spoil the disc. When ground, polished, and figured; the disc is turned into a mirror by aluminizing, or silvering the parabolic surface.

Stamp Club - "A Worthy Hobby"

Philately

After several informal meetings the Stamp Club was organized officially on October 16, 1947. A constitution was adopted, and officers were elected. The club began with 12 charter members and was organized by adviser, Mr. E. A. Schweinhagen. All faculty members are honorary members of the club.

After considerable deliberation the club chose the name "Macomber Philatelic Society." The purpose of the club is to acquaint students with the art of collecting stamps, and, to help the members collect quality stamps at a minimum cost. Quantity and auction buying has helped the members to improve their stamp collection at exceptionally low prices. First day cover service has been provided for the members.

The club undertook a stamp map as a project for the year. The map is 20 inches by 30 inches and is printed in four colors.

Glee Club - "Harmony Forever"

Sing A Song

The first successful attempt to have a Glee Club here took place this year.

The primary purpose of the Glee Club was to sing and to have fun in doing so. The second purpose was to offer some sort of entertainment to the student body at various times during the year.

The Glee Club met three times a week after school. It was decided that each member purchase his own music for rehearsals.

Many successful performances were given by the Glee Club this year. Starting with a bang at a student assembly near Thanksgiving, the singers went on to share in the Christmas festivities by singing carols both at the Hi-Y Christmas Assembly, and at the Christmas Party dinners. Also in the plans for the year was the Minstrel Show, sponsored by the Senior Class.

Officers of the Glee Club are: Richard Washeck, president, Donald Mooney, vice-president; and secretary-treasurer, Hubert Birkenkamp. The adviser is Mr. James J. Damas.

Aeronautic Club - "Flying High"

Up We Go

A new club was formed under the supervison of Instructor W. T. Fulton. To date the the club membership has been limited to Mr. Iron's and Mr. Fulton's Aero Shops. Later, it is hoped, there will room for any student in Macomber to join. The present membership is 21, with Joe Scanes as president; Forrest Weist, vice-president; and Leo Fishbach, secretary treasurer.

Many ideas were suggested for activities, however, model flying is tops in the summer. During the winter the club members learn to operate many types and makes of model engines as well as to control live models, mix fuel, wire engines, and to do model construction. Model speed boats, race cars, gliders, and jets also share in the discussion.

The club members hold many high standards including no smoking, no profanity, no talking unless addressed and one point for each meeting attended. Although the majority of the club's time is spent on models, real air-craft and engines are not over-looked.

Craftsman Pics - "A Yearbook For Every Mac"

Annual Event

Macomber's 1948 Yearbook, "The Craftsman", was composed and printed in the print shop under the supervision of Instructor Malcolm Goodrich, Printing Instructor, and the versitile Editor-in-Chief John Sutton, of the Commercial Art Shop.

Jerry Trabbic did an artistic job of lay-out work with the photoengravings made from the professional pictures taken by Cameraman Richard Washeck, and his assistant, Robert Smith. The school's Speed Graphic Camera was put to excellent use.

James Davis and David Rybka followed a fast moving art schedule and produced work which pleased Art Adviser Ernest W. Spring. Jack Zohn organized a business-like sales campaign while Ron Rooker ably handled the pictu·e taking schedule.

The staff is appreciative of the splendid co-operation kindly given by Advisers Ann Schwertzler, Alvin Preis, E. W. Spring, Malcolm Goodrich, J. J. Damas, G. C. Clements, Robert Romberger, and Z. F. Langenderfer.

Special credit goes to Sophomore Printers Gerald Ustaszewski and Frank Repar, make up men, and to Donald Leck and Melvin Zieman, pressmen.

The 1948 Craftsman is a tribute to all who aided in its production.

Diamond Story

The 1947 Craftsman baseball team tied with DeVilbiss for the Toledo city league championship. Jerry Powers and Bob Michalak were the only holdovers from the team that won the district and regional championship the preceeding year. Dick Bak, who pitched and played the outfield, was voted the most valuable player. Bak was the leading hitter on the team. Robert Ivan, who played short-stop was elected honorary captain. Other members of the squad were Adolph Nowicki, Wootson Gearheart, Eddie Sztukowski, Eugene Dymarkowski, Dick Holtfreter, Bob Sieler, Dick Dersch, Bob Kubicz; Frank Odorzynski, Dick Eggert, and Pierce Holtfreter.

Holdovers for the 1948 team are: Powers, Kubicz, Sieler, Bak, Gearheart; Dymarkowski and Pierce Holtfreter. Other candidates who have a good chance to make the squad, are: Norman Kubicz, Joe Aubry, Bob Czubachowski, Jim Morgan, Blackie Malok, Bud Ward, Ernest Spisz, Dick Saam, Dick Grandy, Jim O'Neil; Louie Kwader, and Chet Mioduszewski.

The Macomber Nine of 1948 should be better than the 1947 team since there are seven players with Varsity experience as a nucleus for the team. Also, many of the players have had experience on outside organized teams.

Court Game

Coach Donald Ziemke's tennis team finished second in the city league, and, lost two matches all year. The Craftsmen had little trouble in wins over Scott, who, in the first match, played Macomber to a tie. The second meeting was also a tie which was decided by playing an extra set. Fremont and DeVilbiss both trounced the Craftsmen.

Perfect Drives

Graduation hit the Craftsman club swing rs severley last year. This year's hold-overs include Danny Rosinski, Senior Electrician, and Paul Zbierajewski, Junior Machinist.

Coach Krost states that there are several hopeful and promising prospective candidates, however, preponderantly Sophomores.

This year the Crafts have confidence that they will again be among the front runners in the Northwestern Ohio District Tournament, thereby earning the right to be one of the two teams representing this district in the State Tournament in Columbus.

Last year the Craftsmen placed third in both City League and District Tournament play. This year, with Sophomore help, the prospects appear brighter for a successful season.

Maple Alleys

This year Macomber is represented by three teams, one in the American League and two in the National. All three teams have a good chance of being in first place.

As usual Macomber is represented in office. Jim Benedette, star of stars, is the treasurer of the league.

Composing the Nationals are: Scotty Szkatulski, Chet Krolik, Don Kukla, Bob Leiby, Captain.

Members of the Craftsman team are: George Polcyn, Joe Bagrowski, Fred Paselk, Lenny Herwat, Jerry Zachman, and Captain Earl Clark.

The American team is made up by the following keglers: Richard Adamski, Ted Siwa, Ron Langa, Don Wollenbecker, Dick Bak and Jim Benedette, Captain.
